

I Saw a Ghost

I saw a ghost

It was a most unusual apparition

I saw a ghost

It made me want to make an act of contrition

I don't believe in things that science can't explain

But I swear that I just saw a ghost

I saw a ghost

It gave me chicken flesh and muscle constriction

I saw a ghost

I tried my very best to hide my affliction

My best friend Roger took one look at me and said

You look like you just saw a ghost

My hands are tremblin'

My nerves are toast

Can't stop remembrin'

The haunted look on the face of that ghost

I saw a ghost

It made me question all my deepest convictions

I saw a ghost

It told me things that seem much stranger than fiction

I learned that straw can give you warts. Oh, yeah, it's true

I know 'cuz I just saw a ghost
