

Once Upon a Haunted Halloween

It felt just like a normal autumn night
The air was cool, the moon was shining bright
But up and down the streets crept scary creatures
Pirates, ghosts, and chalky fingered teachers
With the scariest of all yet to be seen
Once upon a haunted Halloween

Three young kids all loaded down with treats
Dragged their heavy bags along the streets
Wet leaves fell from trees above their heads
Yucky yellow-orange and bloody reds
It was Nick and Jack with Evelyn in between
Once upon a haunted Halloween

"One more house and then we'll head on back"
Evelyn announced to Nick and Jack
"I have to pee now!" Nick began to whine
Cuz he was only six and Jack was nine
But Evelyn was going on thirteen
Once upon a haunted Halloween

"Look!" said Nick, "That wasn't there before."
"Cool!" said Jack, "Let's go knock on the door."
Evelyn agreed, but Nick cried, "No!"
They turned to Jack and he said, "Sure, let's go!"
So up they went with Evelyn in between
Once upon a haunted Halloween

In their throats they felt their wee hearts beat
And all called out together, "Trick or treat!"
The door began to open with a creak
When Evelyn leaned in to take a peek
She sunk inside just like a submarine
Once upon a haunted Halloween

Nick and Jack were sucked inside as well
Along with sister Evelyn they fell
Into the darkness far as they could see
When Nick complained again, "I have to pee!"
They landed on a giant trampoline
Once upon a haunted Halloween

"My name is Azelodnoc," sneered the witch
Who buttered them with oil black as pitch
Her evil smile revealed two jagged teeth
As she bound them like a twisted Christmas wreath
And stuffed them in her oven like sardines
Once upon a haunted Halloween

Then evil Azelodnoc stoked the fire
And cackled as the flames kept crackling higher
"It's hot in here!" Nick cried, "I think I'm choking!"
The witch just chuckled, "Thank you for not smoking.
Cuz healthy children make the best cuisine."
Once upon a haunted Halloween

Then Evelyn said, "Nick, I think you know
That when you gotta go, you gotta go."
So Nick let loose and thick smoke filled the room
The witch blew up before she reached her broom
Her pieces smelled like rotten tangerine
Once upon a haunted Halloween

Somewhere sit three children eating candy
Their father thinks that all is fine and dandy
But mother wonders, What smells like a torch?
And who left that old broom out on the porch?
Nick and Jack with Evelyn in between
Once upon a haunted Halloween
Once upon a haunted Halloween